POCKET calendar design competition 2007

help us promote responsible pet ownership!

As part of its efforts to encourage the public to be responsible pet owners, the Agri-Food & Veterinary Authority (AVA) has been producing and distributing pocket calendars with special Responsible Pet Ownership (RPO) messages annually since 2004. This year, we are hoping you will join in the action by designing a pocket calendar to spread the RPO message: "A Pet is for Life - Do Not Abandon Your Pet".

If your entry is amongst one of the winning entries, it could be featured on AVA's 2008 RPO pocket calendars! Attractive cash prizes also wait to be won.

Participation is free of charge and open to anyone who believes that a pet is a lifetime commitment and wants to help us spread this important RPO message.
